Promoting Social Justice through our Work

As scholars and teachers of communication, we have multiple opportunities to promote justice in our communities, work places, institutions, and interpersonal relationships. The theme of this year's conference is designed to focus our attention on those opportunities, honoring the good work that we already do and encouraging us to find new ways to use our knowledge and skills to create a more just world.

Submission Process:

- Please submit your documents in the correct format to CCIG Chair Amy London at alondon@vccd.net
- All GIFTS (Great ideas for teaching speech/basic course) should be submitted, in correct format, to Vice Chair Randi Picarelli at rrp37111@csun.edu

Pre-conference:

- We will be holding a CCIG workshop during the pre-conference this year, yet we are still in the planning stages. Please submit your suggestions to Chair Amy London.
